“In the next century, nations as we know it will be obsolete; all states will recognize a single, global authority. National sovereignty wasn’t such a great idea after all.”

Henry Kissinger

Considered to be the world's foremost authority concerning world affairs.

David Rockefeller

“...to build a more integrated global political and economic structure—one world, if you will. If that's the charge, I stand guilty and I am proud of it.”

During the 2016 presidential campaign, we continually heard candidate Donald Trump speak against “The Establishment”. However, most people still don’t have a clear understanding of what was meant by “The Establishment”.

“The Establishment” exists in both Republican and Democratic parties. That’s the reason at times it seemed that Donald Trump was running against both Republicans and Democrats.

Over the last fifty years, a general consensus embraced by both Republicans and Democrats had developed concerning the future structure of the emerging world. It is an emerging consensus of Republicans and Democrats was so far advanced that at times, it seemed we were voting for twiddledee or tweedledum. No matter which party happened to be in power, it seemed that our nation continued generally down the same path.

So, what does “The Establishment” really believe? Most of them have come to embrace that the nation-state structure of the world has become outdated. Since the size of the world has shrunk, because of rapid travel and instant communication, it is believed that the nations-state structure is inevitably destined to be replaced by a system of “global governance”.

It was best illustrated by the formation of the United Nations after WWII. The UN was designed to be a system of world government. All members pledged to obey the edicts of the UN and instruments were created to discipline them if they did not. Since its founding in 1945, the United Nations has pulled every nation on earth into its orbit. Today, all the world’s nations have become members of the UN. Only five nations stand above the authority of the United Nations. The “Big Five”, as they are called, were granted veto power at the time of the UN’s founding. These special five nations are the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia and China.

Both Republicans and Democrats seem to draw their leaders from the same elite pool. Over the last fifty years, over 50% of all cabinet members have come from a private club called the Council on Foreign Relations, whether the Republicans or the Democrats were in power. The president of the Council of Foreign Relations for many years was none other than David Rockefeller.

In Memoirs, his autobiography published in 2002, Rockefeller made this startling confession on page 405, "For more than a century ideological extremists at either end of the political spectrum have seized upon well-publicized incidents such as my encounter considered to be the world's foremost authority concerning world affairs. Yet, in this quote straight from his Memoirs, Rockefeller boldly embraced one-world government, and boldly said, "I am proud of it." Rockefeller was a life-long Republican.

Now stepping across the aisle, let's listen to the words of a life-long establishment Democrat. Strobe Talbott wrote in his Time magazine article Birth of the Global Nation, "In the next century, nations as we know it will be obsoworld. To say that belief in global governance is embraced by the United Nations would be an extreme understatement. The UN fully believes in the developing world government and believes it is destined to be the government of the developing New World Order.

If it feels like President Donald Trump is disrupting everything, it's because he is. He is in the process of dismantling the carefully laid plans and structures of the globalists over the last fifty years. This is the reason the opposition against him is so shrill and chaotic. The globalists were so sure that Hillary Clinton would finish the New World Order that President Obama and presidents before him had worked so carefully to construct. Yet, on one dark night, November 8, 2016 it appeared to all be swept away.

When you have long sat in the seat of the establishment for a long time and then suddenly your power seems to have been swept away, you don't take your loss of privilege quietly. That's the reason it seems that the level of political conflict is exploding to unprecedented heights. We are hearing the desperate cries of "The Establishment".

So, what does "The Establishment" really believe?

with Castro to attack the Rockefeller family for the inordinate influence they claim we wield over American political and economic institutions. Some even believe we are part of a secret cabal working against the best interests of the United States, characterizing my family and me as 'internationalists' and of conspiring with others around the world to build a more integrated global political and economic structure—one world, if you will. If that's the charge, I stand guilty, and I am proud of it."

Mr. Rockefeller was Mr. Establishment himself, and at his right hand was always Mr. Henry Kissinger. He was lete; all states will recognize a single, global authority. National sovereignty wasn't such a great idea after all."

Obviously, Republican Rockefeller and Democrat Talbott could very comfortably walk hand-in-hand. And they did. Over the last fifty years, "The Establishment" has generally embraced the reshaping of the world into what has become known as the New World Order, whether the politician wore the label of Democrat or Republican.

This same consensus toward global governance is not confined to the United States. This thinking has now captivated the politics of Europe and most of the

SINCE THE BIRTH OF THE MODERN N'ATI 0 N OF ISRAEL IN 1948. THOUSANDS NEGOTIATING HOURS HAVE BEEN SPENT IN AN ATTEMPT TO ACHIEVE A PEACE AGREEMENT BETWEEN PALESTINIANS AND ISRAELIS. TO THIS POINT, EVERY ATTEMPT HAS UTTERLY FAILED. PRESIDENTS CARTER, CLINTON, BUSH AND OBAMA HAVE USED THE POLITICAL CAPITAL AND INFLUENCE OF THE MOST POWERFUL NATION ON EARTH TO BRING ABOUT A MIDDLE EAST PEACE AGREEMENT. THESE EFFORTS HAVE BEEN IN FRUSTRATION.

BY IBIFIN BAXTER

WASTE DEAL?

While campaigning for the office of the presidency, candidate Barak Obama promised that he would not wait until the last year of his presidency to attempt a Middle East peace agreement. True to his word, the day after his first inauguration Obama appointed George Mitchell to be his special envoy to the Middle East. Mitchell had negotiated a peace deal between Catholics and Protestants in Northern Ireland, which was considered the most intractable conflict of the time. It was believed that if anyone could bring Israelis and Palestinians together, Mitchell could do it. However, after two years of intense effort, Mitchell resigned in disgust.

Obama ordered U.S. Ambassador to the UN, Samantha Power, to abstain from voting "no" to the Resolution 2334 at the UN Security Council.

For the rest of his first term, President Obama placed the Israeli-Palestinian issue on the back burner of his administration. Once elected for his second term, Obama appointed John Kerry as his Secretary of State. Kerry poured himself into the Middle East conflict with unprecedented zeal. For nine months, Kerry spent the lion's share of his time between Jerusalem and Ramallah attempting to bring Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and Palestinian Chairman Mahmoud Abbas together. In the end, all of Kerry's efforts came unraveled, and, like all others before him, he returned to Washington in defeat.

President Obama believed he knew what had to happen in order to reach a peace agreement. He believed Israel must withdraw to 1967 borders, with possible land swaps, and must surrender east Jerusalem to the Palestinians for their capital.

Netanyahu strongly disagreed. He contended that 1967 borders were not defensible since they would leave the nation of Israel nine miles wide at the waist. He also refused to consider the re-division of the city of Jerusalem, contending that it had been Israel's capital for 3,000 years and had never served as the capital for any other nation. The disagreement between Obama and Netanyahu grew more and more contentious throughout Obama's eight-year term. Because Netanyahu would not bow to their wishes, President Obama and Secretary of State John Kerry in the end blamed Netanyahu for the failure of their peace efforts.

After the disintegration of the Palestinian-Israeli negotiations in 2014, the U.S. State Department issued a warning to Netanyahu. They threatened that if Netanyahu did not move quickly to achieve a two-state solution with the Palestinians, he could not assume America would continue to protect Israel at the UN with its veto, as the U.S. had always done before.

As President Obama's term in office drew to a close, rumors circulated that Obama would get revenge on Netanyahu, especially if Hillary Clinton lost the election. It was believed that Obama would collaborate with the UN Security Council to pass a resolution condemning Israel. Obama knew this would be very unpopular with the American people. However, once the election was over, he could do what he wanted, since he no longer faced re-election.

On December 23, 2016 Resolution 2334 was presented before the UN Security Council. The resolution stated that Israel's presence in all territories east of the 1967 borders, including east Jerusalem, was a flagrant violation of international law. The resolution was adopted 14-0 with one abstention. A simple "no" vote by the U.S. would have vetoed the entire resolution. Instead, Obama ordered U.S. Ambassador to the UN Samantha Power to abstain.

The passage of this resolution means that Israel is now in violation of international law and could therefore be placed under economic sanctions or even be subjected to military invasion by the International Community. Obama ruthlessly stabbed Israel, one of the United States' best friends, in the back. Obama's true feelings toward Israel were now laid bare for all to see!

The Election of Donald Trump

Candidate Donald Trump promised, under his administration, America would never attempt to impose a peace agreement upon Israel. He also vowed he would move America's embassy in Israel to Jerusalem, thus recognizing Jerusalem as Israel's capital.

Though Netanyahu was careful to not take sides during the election, it was obvious that he was anxious to see a U.S. president that would be a true friend to Israel.

Donald Trump was inaugurated as the 45th President of the United States on

U.S. Presidential Inauguration Day 2017

January 20, 2017. Very quickly, a visit to Washington, DC by Netanyahu was scheduled. On February 15, he was warmly received at the White House.

Because the goal of establishing two states side by side in the Holy Land appeared impossible after so many years of failure, pressure was building inside Israel to consider a one-state solution. Many members of Netanyahu's ruling coalition opposed the two-state solution contending that Israel should not give

UNDERSTANDING THE END TIME

14 ONE-HOUR PROPHECY LESSONS

Lesson 1, United States Discovered in the Bible - Irvin Baxter discovered the United States in the Bible in 1967! The Bible was written over 2,000 years ago before the United States even existed!

Lesson 2, New World Order is World Government - Irvin Baxter predicted the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1986, which actually happened in 1989. He also said that the New World Order would be birthed at the fall of the Berlin Wall. And it was!

Lesson 3, Islam in Bible Prophecy - Many people do not realize that Islam is in the Bible. Not only is it in the Bible but we also prove that Communism, Catholicism and Capitalism are as well!

Lesson 4, WWIII - The next major prophecy on the horizon is a war that will kill one-third of mankind. This war is also known as the 6th Trumpet. With over 2 billion dead, the world will welcome a world dictator the Bible calls the Antichrist. He will usher in the Mark of the Beast during the Great Tribulation!

Lesson 5, Israel's God-Given Destiny - This lesson tells the story of Israel's history and why there are more wars fought over this country which is one-tenth of one percent of the world's population!

Lesson 6, Israel-God's Prophetic Time Clock - This lesson shares God's plan for the Jewish people which will be fulfilled in the near future!

Lesson 7, Holy Roman Empire Reborn - On November 3, 2009 the Holy Roman Empire was reborn. This prophecy reveals where the Antichrist and his religious partner, the False Prophet, will come from.

Lesson 8, The Antichrist and the False Prophet - The Bible prophesies that two individuals, the Antichrist and the False Prophet, will rule over a system of world government. The power base of the Antichrist is now established and awaiting his arrival.

Lesson 9, 666-Mark of the Beast - The Bible predicts that there will come a day when every person on earth will be required to take a number-the Mark of the Beast. Without this mark they will not be able to buy or sell! Every element is in place right now to implement the plan of Satan and his agent, the Antichrist.

Lesson 10, The Coming One-World Religion, Part 1 - The Bible prophesies a one-world religion in the end time. This lesson proves that the world's foremost political leader and religious leader worked together behind the scenes to bring down the Berlin Wall, which ushered in the New World Order.

Lesson 11, The Coming One-World Religion, Part 2 - The Antichrist and the False Prophet will try to enforce the belief that all religions are equally true and valid. The Bible prophesies a uniform belief system that will be enforced during the Great Tribulation.

Lesson 12, The 7 Trumpets - We prove that over half of the 7 Trumpets have been fulfilled. The next Trumpet on the horizon is the war that will kill one-third of the human race and could happen at any time!

Lesson 13, The Second Coming - There are at least four accounts of the Second Coming in the Book of Revelation. This event is so important that the entire Book of Revelation is devoted to it!

Lesson 14, Kingdom of God - This is the culmination of the series. The Bible teaches the Second Coming of Jesus Christ and what it takes to be a part of His Kingdom. We will soon have "peace on earth, good will to men!"

away the land promised to her by God. Because of Trump's reputation for thinking outside the box, everyone was speculating as to whether he would endorse the two-state solution as others before him had done. World leaders almost unanimously agreed the two-state solution was the only viable answer to the Palestinian-Israeli problem.

After the Trump-Netanyahu meeting, a brief press conference was held. It was obvious the relationship between the two leaders was very warm, which was quite a contrast to the tensions that had prevailed throughout the Obama administration. One of the journalists present quickly asked the inevitable question of President Trump. Do you favor the two-state solution for solving the Middle East conflict?

Trump replied that a two-state or a one-state solution would be okay with him. He explained that whatever the two parties agreed on and whatever they were happy with, would be if he with him.

This was a classic negotiating maneuver by Trump. While locked in to the two-state solution, Israel had no leverage. As soon as Trump floated the possibility that a one-state solution could be implemented, immediately, notice was served that, if the Palestinians did not agree to a reasonable two-state solution, Israel had choices. If Israel couldn't get a satisfactory two-state solution, then it might be forced to implement a one-state solution unilaterally. If this were done with U.S. agreement, there would be nothing the United Nations could do about it since the U.S. could veto any UN action taken against Israel.

What should Happen?

Four thousand years ago, God defined what Israel's borders should be. In Genesis 15:18 God's promise is recorded:

"In the same day the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates."

In other places in the Bible, the area of the Promised Land is described even more definitively.

Israel regained much of the land that God promised during the 1967 War. God had restored Israel to its Promised Land. However, Israel's leaders were afraid of world opinion and the International Community, so they did not annex the land as they should have. Instead, they attempted to make peace with the people of the land.

Since the birth of the modern nation of Israel in 1948, thousands of negotiating hours have been spent in an attempt to achieve a peace agreement between Palestinians and Israelis.

However, God had admonished Israel to "make no covenant" with the inhabitants of the land once He placed it in their hands. God instructed Israel to tear down the high places of the inhabitants of the land, to destroy all of their idols and to utterly drive them out. After the 1967 War, Israel didn't obey God, instead they did it their way. God told Israel that if they did not utterly drive out the inhabitants of the land, they would become pricks in their eyes and thorns in their sides. We have watched this warning by God play out since 1967.

Israel should not give any of the Promised Land away. If Israel would simply obey God, God would fight for her regardless of what the International Community might say or do.

Where are We Right Now?

President Trump is wasting no time in his effort to negotiate a Palestinian-Israeli peace deal. As we go to press, he has met with King Abdullah II of Jordan, Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu, he has talked on the phone with Palestinian leader Mahmoud Abbas and has now invited Abbas to come to the White House. He also has met with the Deputy Crown Prince of Saudi Arabia Mohammad bin Salman. In the meantime, Trump's personal envoy Jason Greenblatt has met with both Netanyahu and Abbas in Israel.

As is his usual style, Trump has this project on fast track. Trump and Netanyahu have agreed that the best path to peace might be a regional agreement, not just an agreement between Israelis and the Palestinians. The regional peace agreement would include Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Jordan, Egypt, Palestine and Israel.

The type of regional agreement has now become possible because these Sunni Arab nations fear the emerging dominance of Shia Iran. They know that if they ally with Israel, this will bring the military might of both Israel and the United States onto their side. President Trump has now called for a regional peace conference to be held in Jordan or in Egypt.

There's one more factor in the timing of these moves by President Trump. During his campaign, he boldly promised he would move the U.S. Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. This would be in conformity to the U.S. Embassy Act passed by the U.S. Congress in 1995. The U.S. Embassy Act stated that the U.S. had to move its embassy to Jerusalem by 1999. However, lawmakers included a clause in the act that said, if the moving of the embassy would endanger national security, the president could sign a waiver and submit it to Congress every six months. Every president since 1995 has signed the waiver every six months in order to avoid moving the embassy to Jerusalem.

Obama signed it again in November of 2016. This means that President Trump will either have to initiate the move of the embassy to Jerusalem or sign another waiver in May 2017. Because of his promise to the American people and because he prides himself in keeping his promises, many people believe Trump will not sign the waiver.

However, moving the embassy unilaterally will certainly inflame the anger of the Arab nations and of most of the world. It is obvious that Trump would like to have a peace deal completed by May so that he could move the embassy as part of the agreement. Will that happen? We don't know yet, but we will soon!

What will Happen?

The Bible prophesies what is ultimately going to happen:

1 Israel's leaders will sign a peace agreement with the Palestinians, disobeying what God has explicitly instructed them to do. The prophecy stating this is given in Daniel 9:27. The passage prophesies the confirmation of the Abrahamic Covenant by the Antichrist. The Abrahamic Covenant is the promise of God to Abraham that the Promised Land will belong to him and his descendants forever.

2 The prophecy states that this agreement will be a 7-year agreement, which confirms Israel's right to exist in the Promised Land. It will be a 7-year agreement instead of a permanent agreement because one major issue will be left unresolved.

3 A Palestinian state will be created in the West Bank—the area referred to in the Bible as Judea-Samaria.

4 There are presently 400 to 500 thousand Jews living in the area that will become the new Palestinian state. Those Jews will be allowed to continue to live in the Palestinian state as a Jewish minority. The logic will be that there are 1.6 million Arabs living as an Arab minority in the Jewish state, so why shouldn't Jews be allowed to live in the Palestinian state?

5 The hot dispute over control of the Temple Mount will be settled by placing it under a sharing arrangement. Both Muslims and Jews will be allowed to worship there. A law has already been introduced in the Israeli Knesset calling for placing the Temple Mount under a sharing arrangement. Revelation 11:1-2 confirms this sharing arrangement will be implemented in the times just ahead. John was told to measure the temple and those that worship therein, but the outer court of the temple to leave out because it would remain under the control of the Gentiles. The outer court is where the Dome of the Rock and the Al Aqsa Mosque are located.

6 This prophecy indicates the Jews will build their temple on their portion of the Temple Mount since you obviously can't measure a temple if there's no temple to measure.

7 The oversight of this sharing arrangement on the Temple Mount will be placed under international supervision – probably overseen by the United Nations.

8 The status of the city of Jerusalem will be left unresolved under this agreement. The Palestinians say there will be no permanent peace agreement unless they have east Jerusalem as their capital, but the Israelis vow they will never surrender Jerusalem or divide it. When all other issues have been negotiated and only this one last issue remains, an agreement will be struck to implement those things that have been successfully negotiated, but to postpone negotiations concerning the final status of Jerusalem for a period of 7 years.

All of the above factors of the peace agreement can be clearly understood from the prophecies given in the scriptures.

The Ultimate Deal will Become the Armageddon Deal

When the 7-year agreement expires, the Palestinians will insist that east Jerusalem be given to them as their capital. However, Israel will steadfastly resist. The United Nations will side with the Palestinians against Israel. Still Israel will not agree. Finally, the UN will deliver an ultimatum to Israel, but Israel will not submit. The UN will then authorize the invasion of Israel by the World Community. Zechariah 14:2 prophesies the invasion:

“For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.”

Israel will fight valiantly against the armies of the World Community; however, Israel will slowly be driven back before the superior forces of the UN. Finally, Israel will make her last stand on Jerusalem, yet half of Jerusalem will fall into the hands of the world government. It will appear that Israel is on the brink of annihilation.

At this critical time, Israel will cry for her Messiah to come and save her. Zechariah 14:3-4 describes what happens next:

“Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.”

Jesus will return to earth at this strategic time. He will defeat the armies of the world, and will establish His promised Kingdom of God upon earth. This will begin 1,000 years of peace on earth, goodwill toward men!

Airport Warning Signs for Travelers

Signs are popping up at many airports, warning travelers that, a year from now, their driver's licenses or ID cards might be rejected. The signs declare, starting on January 22, 2018 if your card is produced by a state which is not compliant with REAL ID's security standards, it will not be accepted. You will need to present an alternative, "acceptable" form of identification if you intend to board a plane. If you don't know which IDs are "acceptable", you must visit "tsa.gov." The airport signs list nine non-compliant states. Of course, this list changes as states change their procedures, and must be continually updated. It is up to you, as an individual traveler, to determine what you must do to comply with federal travel regulations. Perhaps the presence of the warning signs will prompt travelers to urge their state leaders to move forward with complete compliance, before waivers, extensions and postponements are exhausted.

REAL ID Compliance Extended, Again

When the REAL ID Act was signed into law in 2005, who could have imagined this driver's license security legislation would not be fully implemented until 2020? That's fifteen years later! Yet, here we are today, twelve years after REAL ID was passed by Congress, and the law continues to generate contention, controversy and confusion. Also, the federal government's shifting position on the enforcement of deadlines has created an unnecessary level of bewilderment. By the way, if the Department of Homeland Security has already determined that your state is "compliant", you will have until October 1, 2020 to upgrade your card to REAL ID standards. But that may change.

What About My State?

As of December 2016, when TSA began posting the airport signs, there were only 24 states and Washington, D.C., which produced licenses compliant with REAL ID standards. Most remaining states have an extension through October 10, 2017. If you are unsure about what to do about the REAL ID Act in your state, you can check online for the status of your state at Homeland Security, Current Status of States/Territories: www.dhs.gov/current-status-states-territories.

Preventing Terrorism or Controlling Americans?

Critics claim that the REAL ID Act coerces state governments into turning driver's licenses and state ID cards into a heavy-handed tool of the Department of Homeland Security. Citizens of non-compliant states are threatened with the loss of such privileges as being allowed to board an airplane or entering a federal building. Opponents of REAL ID have referred to the bill as an "internal passport", that is, a special form of identification and control for domestic travel. The creator of the REAL ID Act, Representative James Sensenbrenner, asserted that REAL ID is all about solving illegal immigration and preventing terrorists from entering the country. However, Senator Ron Paul countered that REAL ID is all about tracking and controlling Americans. For Americans to be tracked and controlled, someone must first verify they are indeed Americans, and that is why the states' departments of motor vehicles will have added duties.

DMVs to Verify Citizenship

Detractors of REAL ID emphasize the law turns state motor vehicle department workers into federal immigration officials. You see, REAL ID gives the DMV worker the added responsibility of verifying the citizenship of all those who apply for a REAL ID-compliant driver's license or identification card. Another controversy is the way the law requires states to share their databases of driver's information across a national data network. This is the same kind of database which would be essential for the creation of a national identification system.

Does REAL ID Create a National ID Database?

In response to the claims that REAL ID creates such a national database, the Department of Homeland Security says on its website, "...REAL ID does not build a national database nor does it grant the Federal Government or another state access to a state's driver's license data." However, the Identity Project has testified that one of the goals of the REAL ID Act is a "distributed national ID database," in which a single query routed through the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators' data "hub" can retrieve driver information from every state ID database. The Cato Institute assures us that "...There is absolutely a national database system, equivalent to a single, centralized database, and it is required by the REAL ID law." "Technically," explains the Cato website, "the database is not actually 'federal', because it is operated by the states and the AAMVA, 'at the federal government's behest'."

However, it would be quite a stretch to try to explain how the REAL ID database is not a national ID database, for several reasons. First, it is national, in that it is used throughout the country. Next, it is legally required with no provision for opting out. And finally, it is used for identification. Look at it this way; if it works like a national ID, sounds like a national ID, and looks like a national ID, it's a "national ID". Also, all data printed on REAL ID-compliant licenses and ID cards is nationally standardized, and all cards can be scanned using the same readers and software.

REAL ID Data "Hub" Challenges the Fourth Amendment

The national REAL-ID Act "hub" software and central database has been developed by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators. AAMVA avoids much public scrutiny because it is not a federal agency. It is a "private" nonprofit "trade association", which is not subject to public record laws.

The Fourth Amendment requires the government to allow Americans to be secure "in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures." In other words, because of the Constitution, Americans have an expectation about their right to control what others see of their private information. Because the REAL ID data "hub" compromises this constitutional right, it has inflamed an ongoing and intense opposition.

Opposition Continues

REAL ID legislation has met with staunch resistance from many states, some going so far as to pass laws against compliance. At one point, sixteen states had passed anti-REAL ID legislation. In other words, it would have been against the law for someone in those states to use state funds to help comply with REAL ID. In May 2007, Epic.org announced that forty-three groups had joined the campaign to “Stop REAL ID.” And the opposition has continued to this day.

Minnesota Pressured to Comply

Recently, the Department of Homeland Security has been intensifying efforts to coerce state leaders into taking compliance action. For example, in the spring of 2016, under pressure from the DHS, the state legislature of Minnesota created a special “Legislative Working Group on Real ID.” The Identity Project, a national civil liberties organization, testified before the group of their concern that “the U.S. Department of Homeland Security is trying to mislead the legislature and the people of Minnesota about the REAL ID Act.” The Identity Project claimed that the DHS intended to “frighten” Minnesota into compliance with federal requests “that have no legal basis.” hT ey also asserted that, “No law and no publicly-disclosed rule requires anyone to have or show any ID to travel by air within the U.S.”

Jim Harper, of the Competitive Enterprise Institute, testified last February before a Minnesota Senate Judiciary Committee, that Minnesota should not implement REAL ID, as it is “a misdirected policy, both nationally and for the states.” “It is a weak security measure,” Harper continued, “creating a national ID that exposes Americans to loss of privacy, hacking, and identity fraud risks.” Funding for this assault on privacy must come from somewhere, and that financial resource would have to be the American people themselves.

Financial Burdens for States and Americans

While some states move forward with their efforts to become compliant with the REAL ID, others continue to push back against federal overreach. These states claim that the federal government is overstepping its authority, collecting too much information about citizens, and putting their privacy in jeopardy. Still other states oppose implementation of the REAL ID Act because of the estimated cost. hT e REAL ID Act is an “unfunded federal mandate”. This means that most of the cost of changing over millions of licenses and ID cards is born by the states. The states then must raise the fees for obtaining new licenses, shifting some of the financial burden to the person who is simply trying to exchange a valid license for the new REAL ID format. In addition to the higher fees, increased administrative burdens for the states, and longer lines and repeat visits to the DMV for individuals, create a bureaucratic nightmare that leaves no one happy.

DHS Compliance Summary

Antagonism from some states seems to have subsided in the face of Homeland Security's warnings. The Department of Homeland Security's REAL ID website currently lists 26 states that are compliant with the REAL ID Act. Seventeen states or territories have an extension through October 10, 2017. Seven states or territories have a “limited extension” through June 6, 2017 and five states are non-compliant. The non-compliant states are Maine, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana and Washington.

REAL ID Creates Privacy Issues

REAL ID was attached to a bill providing tsunami relief and military appropriations in 2005, and passed with little debate and no hearings. When the final regulations concerning the implementation of REAL ID were released in 2008, DHS Secretary Chertoff admitted that the REAL ID card would be used for a wide variety of purposes, unrelated to the law that authorized the system, including employment verification and immigration determination. He also revealed that the Department of Homeland Security would not prevent the use of the card by private parties for non-government purposes. Chertoff went on to disclose that “embracing REAL ID” would mean it would be used to “cash a check, hire a baby sitter, board a plane or engage in countless other activities.” We need to realize that the implementation of REAL ID is a step in the direction of the total control of every human activity.

REAL ID on the Way to Total Control

The thinking behind REAL ID was that the only way to go after terrorists is to be able to track and control everybody.

The seeds of the Battle of Armageddon were sown on November 29, 2012. The seeds sown on that historic day are in the process of producing a dreadful harvest. The Bible actually describes the “Harvest of Armageddon”. Many events will occur between the sowing of Armageddon and the time of its harvest. This lesson describes the events that will occur along the road that leads to the world’s final battle. It explains what happened on November 29, 2012 and what will happen at the Harvest of Armageddon.

On December 23, 2016 the United Nations, with the approval of the Obama administration, passed a resolution that will inevitably lead the world into the Battle of Armageddon. It will not happen immediately, but it is coming as sure as the sun rises in the east and sets in the west. Armageddon will be the world’s final war and that will be the time when Jesus Christ returns to earth to put down the governments of men and to establish His eternal Kingdom. First Step to Armageddon explains exactly what happened on December 23, 2016 and illustrates why the events of that day will ultimately culminate in the final battle described in the Book of Revelation. Every person on earth should experience First Step to Armageddon since all of us are now on the road toward the final apocalyptic war.

N COLLECTION

The prophecies of the Bible clearly foretell the major events that will come to pass over the next few years. In the first lesson of this series we give an overview of the major events that will occur from now until the Battle of Armageddon and the Second Coming of Jesus Christ. After the overview, we explain each major prophecy in detail. We give the location of the prophecy, explain what it means and show how world conditions are presently converging for the fulfillment of that prophecy. God did not intend for His people to stumble blindly through the end times. These things are clearly described in this exciting series.

A surgeon implants British scientist Dr. Mark Gasson in his left hand with an RFID microchip.

REAL ID mandates that every American carry, and be prepared to present, at airports and federal facilities, a federally compliant driver's license or state-issued ID card, which is produced by their state's motor vehicle department. hT e cards will be coded with birth information, social security data, facial recognition scans and biometric identification information.

Is REAL ID the Beginning of the Mark of the Beast?

Revelation warns about a false Messiah, the Antichrist, who will be given power over "all kindreds, and tongues, and nations." (Revelation 13:7) hT e Bible also describes the False Prophet, who causes all to receive "a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads." Without the mark, or the name of the "beast", the Antichrist, or the number of his name, no one will be able to buy or sell. (Revelation 13:16-17) In practical terms, under Real ID, Americans must have a government number to hold jobs and have bank accounts.

hT e Mark of the Beast prophecy makes one aspect of the information demanded by the REAL ID Act particularly alarming to Bible students. REAL ID requires biometric information, which includes if ngerprints or eye scans. hT e Mark of the Beast prophecy states that the mark will be in the hand or the forehead. (Revelation 14:9) Our if ngerprints are in our hands, and our eyes are in our foreheads. REAL ID requires that the information in each state's database be linked with the databases of the other states. Once your information is placed in the federalized database, the federal government can then instantly access your personal information. Real ID would condense all that information into an easily-accessed database for the first time. Without your compliant identification card, you won't be able to board an airplane, open a bank account or access any service that depends on federally-approved identification. We will be controlled by a tragically-flawed central authority.

State Sovereignty Attacked by a Flawed System

hT e significance of the REAL ID Act extends beyond disputes over unfunded mandates and search and seizure issues. REAL ID is a direct assault on state sovereignty. It usurps the authority of the states to institute their own driver's license regulations. Because the law creates a centralized registry of personal data, it also increases the potential for fraud and identity theft.

hT e Department of Homeland Security has been issuing waivers to states which promise to work on compliance. This illustrates a l faw in the system. hT e federal government has passed a law intended to prevent another 9/11-style attack, but it has allowed states to seek waivers for over a decade. If the law is essential for national security, it should be enforced immediately. If it is not crucial for our protection, it should be repealed.

Dangerous Threats to Liberty

Five REAL ID enforcement deadlines have come and gone since the law was passed in 2005, because states, which are aware of its dangers and threats to liberty, have continued to refuse to comply. REAL ID is not just another type of state driver's license; it is a federally-controlled ID card. Government officials will impose an ever-expanding agenda of "official purposes" for which it must be used, if we allow it to happen. 1

T WORLD GOVERNMENT!

A Message to Our Lawmakers and Influential Members of Society
Concerning World Government

By Dave Rahbi ns

Endtime Ministries specializes in using current events to reveal how Bible prophecy, written 2,000 to 2,500 years ago, is coming to pass right now. These revelations let us know that we are truly living in the end time, just prior to the Second Coming of Jesus Christ.

One such prophecy is the formation of the presently emerging world government. That is correct. The World Order, International Community, and Liberal International Order are all synonyms for the world government prophesied to rule the earth in the near future. Many of you will recognize it by the organizations that are used to facilitate its mandates. I'm referring to the United Nations (UN), International Monetary Fund (IMF), World Bank, International Criminal Court (ICC), World Health Organization (WHO) and many others.

These entities provide the agenda, and the nations of the world are expected to adhere.

To many of you who will read this article, global governance is not a bad thing. However, according to prophecy, the end time world government will eventually be ruled by an evil man (the Antichrist), much worse than Adolph Hitler. That is why you must understand the effort to establish a global government, in light of Bible prophecy.

Just like every historical effort to establish a world empire, Satan has been the instigator, and the prophesied end time world government will be no different. Throughout time, many leaders of global empires have eventually thought of themselves as gods, and this is exactly what the leader of the final world government will do:

"That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand. Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition; Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God." II Thessalonians 2:2-4

The Bible tells us that this entity will be destroyed, by Jesus, when He returns to the earth. That is why the United States must not be part of the world government in the end time.

Without a prophetic view of this world government, you, as influential members of our American society could make the mistake of yielding up our sovereignty and implementing the agenda of this one-world government in this country.

Many of you are aware, from a secular viewpoint, this is already happening in many ways. Consider that President Obama obligated the United States citizens to work toward the full implementation of, "Transforming our world: the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development." The 17 sustainable development goals, that make up the United Nations 2030 Agenda are simply a way to redistribute the wealth of the world and control the consumption and production of every person on the planet.

In doing so, the United States is fulfilling the will of the United Nations global-governing agenda.

This is world government.

United Nations

Throughout time there have been many efforts to establish a world government on the earth. The Tower of Babel was the first attempt at a humanistic world government. In modern times, we refer to these efforts as world empires. Some of the more recognizable ones would be the Assyrians, Babylonians, the Medes and the Persians, Grecians, Romans, along with others who have had aspirations but were not successful in their endeavors.

However, knowing your time is valuable, I want to focus on the current effort to institute a system of global governance. Although there are many tentacles to this beast, the institution at the forefront of this massive endeavor is the United Nations.

The origin of the current effort to establish a world government dates back to the early twentieth century.

Up to that time, World War I, also called the Great War, was the worst war the world had ever known. Having witnessed just over eight million casualties from 1914-1918, the world said, "never again". It was from this catastrophe the idea to establish a structure for global security was birthed. This framework of ideas became the League of Nations.

The League of Nations was formed in an attempt to insure that another world war would never be fought. U.S. President Woodrow Wilson championed the idea, but the U.S. Congress hesitated at the idea of being a part of a world government. They did not want to surrender U.S. sovereignty, so they voted against it. Because Wilson could not carry his own government into the League of Nations, it quickly dismantled and fell apart.

Twenty years later, however, World War II ended with fifty-two million casualties. The cry for world security became louder than ever. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a believer in a global-governing order to protect the earth and was responsible for the term "New World Order" (Latin term - Novus Ordo Seclorum) being printed on the back of the U.S. dollar bill. It's in the banner under the pyramid with the all-seeing eye.

At the end of World War II, Stalin, Churchill and Roosevelt came together at Yalta in an effort to end all war. It was during these meetings the concept of the global government structure, the United Nations, was formulated.

One key American man responsible for the formation of the United Nations was Alger Hiss. He organized the American delegation and served as the acting Secretary-General at the first UN meeting. Hiss also served on the steering and executive committees and was charged with the responsibility of actually writing the UN Charter. After playing such a dominant role in developing the charter of the UN (1945) and in the founding conference, three years later he was convicted in the United States courts of lying to cover his activities as a Communist spy.

According to WND, "It all began unraveling in 1948, when Hiss was accused of being a Soviet spy. Because the statute of limitations on espionage had run out, he was convicted only of perjury. Decades later—after the Hiss trial had been long forgotten by most—archival evidence surfaced confirming the accusations: a public servant (Hiss) with access to classified documents had indeed passed crucial information to the Soviets for more than a decade.”<sup>1</sup>

Previous to this, Hiss accompanied President Franklin Roosevelt to the Yalta Conference where the carving up of Europe, by the United States and Russia took place. At this time Roosevelt was a dying man; consequently, Alger Hiss carried the bulk of the negotiations for America. What Russia did not win on the battlefield, she won at the peace table because her own agent (Hiss) was assisting Roosevelt with negotiations. This explains why Russia received so many concessions at the end of World War II.

Hiss designed the United Nations to be a global union of socialist republics. The emblem of the Soviet Union was a globe with two sheaves of wheat around it, with the hammer and sickle superimposed. The emblem of the United Nations is also a globe, with two olive branches around it. When the insignia of the United Nations was designed, the hammer and sickle was left off because including it would have been too obvious.

The fact is, Hiss designed the structure of the United Nations to ultimately become a socialistic world government. Hiss went to prison, but the UN continued to be a structure for the one-world government system.

To this day, not one word of the original United Nations Charter has changed. It is today and always will be a socialistic world-governing institution.

Some will deny this is true, stating there is no legitimate world-governing order. They claim the United Nations, along with many other like-minded institutions are simply working towards global governance.

My question is, what’s the difference between global governance and global government? The answer is, there is no difference!

World or Liberal International Order

If there is no established world-governing order, then why are global leaders voicing their concerns about the nationalist and populist movements around the world?

Joe Biden, speaking at the World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland, on January 18, 2017 made these statements concerning the rising anti-global government developments across the globe:

“For the past seven decades, the choices we have made—particularly the United States and our Allies in Europe—have steered our world down a clear path...Our careful attention to building and sustaining a liberal international order—with the United States and Europe at its core—was the bedrock of success the world enjoyed in the second half of the 20th Century...it is imperative we act urgently to defend the liberal international order...Popular movements on both the left and the right have demonstrated a dangerous willingness to revert to political small-mindedness—to the same nationalist, protectionist, and isolationist agendas that led the world to consume itself in war during the last century...This is a politics at odds with our values and with the vision that built—and sustains—the liberal international order. The impulse to hunker down, shut the gates, build walls, and exit at this moment is precisely the wrong answer. It offers a false sense of security in an interconnected world.”<sup>2</sup>

Speaking to Jake Tapper on CNN’s “State of the Union,” December 18, 2016 Senator John McCain (R-AZ) stated: “What’s happening here when we see the seizure of these ships, when we see the cyber-attacks, when we see the dismemberment of Syria, when we see the tragedies that are taking place there which are heartbreaking, actually heartbreaking, while we sat by and watched all this happen, this is a sign of a possible unraveling of the world order that was established after World War II, which was one of the most peaceful periods in the history of the world.”<sup>3</sup>

U.S. Senator John McCain (R-AZ), Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, delivered the following remarks at the 2017 Munich Security Conference: “From the ashes of the most awful calamity in human history (WWII) was born what we call the West—a new, and different, and better kind of world order...one based not on blood-and-soil nationalism, or spheres of influence, or conquest of the weak by the strong, but rather on universal values...The unprecedented period of security and prosperity that we have enjoyed for the past seven decades did not happen by accident.”<sup>4</sup>

Wolfgang Ischinger – Liberal International Order: “We may, then, be on the brink of a post-Western age, one in which non-Western actors are shaping international affairs, often in parallel or even to the detriment of precisely those multilateral frameworks that have formed the bedrock of the liberal international order since 1945... Are we entering a post-order world?”<sup>5</sup>

The Liberal International Order that the United States and the European Union have endeavored to establish over the last seventy-plus years, is a system of world government. It started with the United Nations, but did not stop there. Over the years, globalists have methodically added more and more global governing institutions (i.e. IMF, WHO, ICC etc.) to establish the world order they desire.

The goal is an interconnected world where there are no nation-states. There is to be only one global community that answers to one global government.

Their concern is that the global-governing system, that they have worked so hard to establish, is unraveling due to the nationalism and populism movements across the globe.

Populism and Nationalism

The core ideology of the current populism and nationalism movements is this: Representation of the common man or woman and the interest of a single nation against the establishment or global elite and their effort to establish supranational governing systems.

Although there are several Populist movements (i.e. Brexit, Marine Le Pen of France, Geert Wilders of the Netherlands...), none is more recognizable than President Donald Trump.

During his campaign for the presidency of the United States and since the election, President Trump has been very clear that he is against globalism or the move towards and dependency on a world government. On the contrary, President Trump has taken a very pro-nationalistic stance.

Nimrata "Nikki" Haley is the 29th and current United States Ambassador to the United Nations.

Donald Trump's CPAC Speech on February 24, 2017, "Global cooperation, dealing with other countries, getting along with other countries is good, it's very important. But there is no such thing as a global anthem, a global currency or a global flag. This is the United States of America that I'm representing. I'm not representing the globe; I'm representing your country. There's one allegiance that unites us all, and that is to America. America, it's the allegiance to America."<sup>6</sup>

From a political or strictly secular viewpoint, President Trump could be considered non-cooperative or even rebellious against the International Communities ideology.

However, for those who understand Bible prophecy, Donald Trump's resistance towards the world government is a very good thing.

World Government Prophecy

Revelation 13:1-8 describes the end time world government and the leader of that entity—the Antichrist—as the Beast.

Another characteristic of that same beast, found in Revelation 17:3, is that it is scarlet (red) colored. From the prophecy of the first four seals, Revelation 6:1-8 along with further clues given in Zechariah 6:1-8, we know that the red spirit, controlling the ideologies of a segment of mankind today is communism or socialism. (i.e. Red Russia, Red China,...) From these two prophecies, we know that the end time world government will be a socialistic entity.

However, the most odious aspect of this entire prophecy is found in Revelation 13:2 which states, "...and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority."

The identity of the "dragon" is found in Revelation 12:9, "And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan..."

What do we learn by tying these prophecies together?

The end time world government will be a socialistic entity that will be ruled by a physical man—the Antichrist—but will receive its power and authority from Satan himself.

That's right. Satan is setting the agenda for the current world governing entities on earth today, and it is a direct fulfillment of Bible prophecy.

Ever wonder why the United Nations has such an obsession with Israel? It's not because there are so many Arabs opposed to the existence of the nation of Israel.

No. The real reason is that God stated thirty-seven times in the Old Testament, that He would place His name in Jerusalem. Since then, Satan has been fighting for control of that city.

Since Satan is the driving force behind the current world government, it is no wonder the United Nations is obsessed with demonizing Israel every chance it gets.

Nikki Haley

Consider the current bias of the United Nations against the nation of Israel. This is not simply a political issue. It is a true battle of good and evil.

On February 16, the United States Ambassador to the United Nations, Nikki Haley spoke at a Press Conference after attending a UN Security Council Meeting on the Middle East, at UN Headquarters in New York, NY.

"...So the first (thing) I want to do is talk about what we just saw in there. The Security Council just finished its regular monthly meeting on Middle East issues. It's the first meeting like that that I've attended, and I have to say it was a bit strange...The Security Council is supposed to discuss how to maintain international peace and security. But at our meeting on the Middle East, the discussion was not about Hezbollah's illegal buildup of rockets in Lebanon. It was not about the money and weapons Iran provides to terrorists. It was not about how we defeat ISIS. It was not about how we hold Bashar al-Assad accountable for the slaughter of hundreds and thousands of civilians...No, instead, the meeting focused on criticizing Israel, the one true democracy in the Middle East... I am new around here, but I understand that's how the Council has operated, month after month, for decades... Incredibly, the UN Department of

THESE REVELATIONS LET US KNOW THAT WE ARE TRULY LIVING IN THE END TIME, JUST PRIOR TO THE SECOND COMING OF JESUS CHRIST.

Political Affairs has an entire division devoted to Palestinian affairs. Imagine that. There is no division devoted to illegal missile launches from North Korea... There is no division devoted to the world's number one state-sponsor of terror, Iran. The prejudiced approach to Israeli-Palestinian issues does the peace process no favors. And it bears no relationship to the reality of the world around us... The double standards are breathtaking. Just a few days ago, the United States sought, unsuccessfully, to have the Security Council condemn a terrorist attack to Israel, where the terrorist opened fire on people waiting for a bus, and then stabbed others. The Security Council would not hesitate to condemn an attack like that in any other country. But not for Israel. The statement was blocked. And that's downright shameful... Israel exists in a region where others call for its complete destruction and in a world where anti-Semitism is on the rise. These are threats that we should discuss at the United Nations as we continue working toward a comprehensive agreement that would end the Israeli-Palestinian conflict... It is the UN's anti-Israel bias that is long overdue for change. The United States will not hesitate to speak out against these biases in defense of our friend and ally, Israel."

Over the years, it has been easy to see the bias that the United Nations has against Israel. Nikki Haley is simply voicing her astonishment at how obvious that prejudice really is.

Again, what we are dealing with here is not simply a political viewpoint, but a true battle of good versus evil. It is an age-old conflict between God and Satan.

Where does it all lead?

The eternal clash between the Creator and His fallen angel.

Destruction of World Government

In Daniel 2, King Nebuchadnezzar had a dream of the last five empires that would rule the entire earth. The empires made up if ve segments of a statue.

The statue had a head of gold (Babylonian Empire 604-539 BC), arms and breast of silver (Medo-Persia Empire 539-331 BC), belly and thighs of brass (Grecian Empire 331-197 BC), legs of iron (Roman Empire 197 BC-284 AD) and the last world governing entity, which had feet of iron mixed with clay. According to Bible prophecy, the Holy Roman Empire, which is the current European Union, will be the head of the one-world government and the powerbase of the Antichrist, just prior to the Second Coming of Jesus Christ.

In Daniel 2:34 it states, "Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces."

The stone represents Jesus Christ and His kingdom. It demonstrates that Jesus will return to earth during the time of the Holy Roman Empire. When He comes, He will destroy the world government, which is Satan's last effort to rule the world, and replace it with the long-promised Kingdom of God.

Note: For a complete explanation of this prophecy regarding the rebirth of the Holy Roman Empire, order the DVD "Holy Roman Empire Reborn" lesson 7, by visiting www.endtime.com or calling 1-800-endtime. (363-8463)

The final conflict when the Lord will wipe out the world government, is called the Battle of Armageddon. It will occur when the armies of the end time world government come down against Jerusalem. (Zechariah 14:2) It is at this time that Zechariah 14:3 states, "Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle."

Who, as a part of the world government armies, would like to be there to fight against God in that last battle?

What should You Do?

Ladies and Gentlemen, the world government prophesied to be in power just before the Second Coming of Jesus Christ, is already established and in power today. Soon it will be ruled by an evil political figure much worse than Adolph Hitler. This socialistic entity is made up of the United Nations and other global-governing bodies that set the managing agenda for the nations of the earth.

Now that you understand that Satan is behind the current effort to establish a world government and the final outcome of that entity, please make future decisions accordingly.

If you have any kind of influence in the United States, make an effort to remove America from any involvement with all world government entities.

Why? Because according to Bible prophecy, God is coming back to utterly destroy those establishments and all who have pledged allegiance to them. E

PROOFS THE END TIME IS NOW!

We are presently at the end of the time of human government and near the time of the establishment of the Kingdom of God upon earth.

BY DAVE ROBBINS

Here are nine specific things prophesied for the end time that are in the process of happening right now!

1 A war will begin from the vicinity of the Euphrates River that will kill one-third of the human race.

(Revelation 9:13-16)

The Euphrates River is located in Turkey, Syria, Iraq and Iran—all states dominated by Islam. ISIS has captured approximately forty percent of the Euphrates River in the last two years. Meanwhile, the world's two nuclear superpowers, Russia and the United States, have forces fighting against ISIS on either side of the Euphrates. Russia is attacking ISIS on the west side of the Euphrates while the U.S. is fighting against ISIS on the east side. With the world's two leading superpowers encamped on either side of the Euphrates River, the stage is certainly set for the Euphrates River War prophesied in Revelation 9.

Although ISIS originated in this Euphrates River region, it now appears to have spread globally.

According to the prophecies, this war is coming. It's only a matter of "When". Some believe it has already begun!

2 A Palestinian-Israeli peace agreement will signal the beginning of the Final Seven Years to Armageddon and the Second Coming of Jesus.

The Final Seven Years will begin when the Antichrist and the International Community give their support to Israel's right to exist in the land promised to Abraham by God. (Genesis 15:18) This is called the confirmation of the covenant. (Daniel 9:27)

Israel's Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has openly stated that the number one goal of his administration is to obtain the support of the International Community for Israel's final borders. He openly embraced the "two-state solution" in his famous "Bar Ilan" speech of 2009.

There is a belief in the International Community that if Israel and the Palestinians cannot reach a settlement, the World Community should formulate a peace plan and insist that both sides accept it.

A peace agreement is coming. When it happens, the Final Seven Years to the Battle of Armageddon will begin.

3 The West Bank (Judea), in Israel, will become a place of great tribulation. (Matthew 24:15-21)

In 1948, when the Jordanians invaded the West Bank in an attempt to destroy the new nation of Israel as soon as it was born, they drove out every Jewish person living there. Consequently, there were zero Jews living in the West Bank when Israel reclaimed the territory in 1967.

When the Jordanians were driven back into their own country, Jews began to return to their homes. Many other Jews built homes on unoccupied ground. Those homes multiplied into settlements and then ultimately became towns that are referred to as settlements. As a result, there are around 800,000 Jews living in Judea-Samaria today.

It is this West Bank territory where Palestinians want to establish their Palestinian state. But, what do they do with the Jews who live there?

In a speech to a Joint Meeting of the U.S. Congress in 2011, Netanyahu stated, "In any peace agreement that ends the conflict, some settlements will end up beyond Israel's borders."

Former Palestinian Prime Minister Salaam Fayyad offered a solution to the problem. He said the Jews could remain in the new Palestinian state just like there are Arabs living in the Israeli state.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has stated that, as a result of a future peace agreement, he would be willing to allow Israelis to remain in the West Bank under Palestinian rule.

When the prophesied peace agreement is finally concluded, this is the solution to the settlement problem that will be implemented. The arrangement will work for three and one-half years. Jesus prophesied that at that time the Palestinians would turn on the Jews living among them and would begin to slaughter them. This will trigger the time known as the Great Tribulation. The peace plans presently under consideration will set the stage for this prophecy to be fulfilled.

4 The Temple Mount in Jerusalem will be placed under a sharing arrangement between Jew and Gentile. (Revelation 11:1-2)

On November 1, 2013, Bayit Yehudi (Jewish Home Party) introduced a bill to the Israeli Knesset that would place the Temple Mount under a sharing arrangement. If enacted, this bill would allow Jews and Muslims to worship and pray on the Temple Mount equally. This potentially explosive bill is still under consideration.

5 The Jewish temple will be built on the Temple Mount. (Revelation 11:1-2; 77 ~essalonians 2:3-4)

In March 2016, the Temple Institute initiated a plan to identify, select and register kohanim-priests who would be eligible to take part in the process of preparing the Red Heifer, which is used in the ritual of purification of those who would perform Torah-based commandments.

"For the first time in 2,000 years," said Rabbi Chaim Richman, “after miraculously returning to the Land of Israel, we are beginning the process of reinstating the Biblical purity of the Jewish priesthood.”

Furthermore, all the furniture for Israel’s Third Temple is now complete.

6 hT e Temple Mount will be placed under the supervision of the World Community and the leader of the World Community, which will at that time be the Antichrist. hT e Antichrist will stand on the Temple Mount claiming to be God.

(II ~essalonians 2:3-4)

When President Bill Clinton was leading negotiations between Yasser Arafat and Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak at Camp David in July 2000, the talks stalled on the issue of the Temple Mount. Arafat said the Muslims just couldn’t give it up. Barak said that the Muslims had their first holy site in Mecca and their second holy site in Medina. He argued that the Jews didn’t even have their first holy site.

However, Arafat was adamant. We can’t give it up, he contended. Finally, President Clinton said, “You can just share it.”

Arafat said, “It won’t work. You can’t put Jews and Arabs on the same 35 acres without them killing each other.”

Barak replied that it could work. He said, “We could simply put the Temple Mount under the supervision of an international authority – possibly the United Nations.”

When the UN takes control of the Temple Mount, the leader of the world government will feel justified in claiming ultimate authority there.

7 A world government will dominate the world for three and one-half years prior to Armageddon.

(Daniel 7:23; Revelation 13:7)

hT e nations of the world are increasingly recognizing the authority of international law. We now have the World Bank, the World Trade Organization, the World Health Organization and the World Court, just to name a few. We have a World Court to adjudicate the international laws of the emerging world government.

Globalization, sustainable development, International Community, global governance, New World Order, global political authority, and United Nations are all modern terms used to describe the world government.

8 Each person on earth will be required to have a mark or a number in order to buy or sell.

(Revelation 13:16-18)

First, such a system has never been possible until right now. Only with the invention of the computer and the birth of the Internet could this prophecy be fulfilled. I wonder how the writer of Revelation knew to predict such a system way back in 96 AD?

Secondly, just such a system is being implemented in the United States and in most other countries on earth right now.

On May 11, 2005, President Bush signed the Real ID Act. The law requires that every American must have a national ID card. hT e final deadline for enforcement of a national ID card in America is October 1, 2020.

Without this card, a person will not be able to fly on a plane, hold a job or open a bank account. Without a job or a bank account, how much buying and selling will an individual be able to do? Oh, by the way, you can’t get your card without giving your number...your social security number.

Most of the world’s nations have a national ID card required for employment. It is considered the best way to control illegal immigration. If people can’t get jobs, the basic reason for illegally entering your country is eliminated.

9 The World Community, led by Russia and Iran, will invade the nation of Israel. (Zechariah 14:2-4; Ezekiel 38 & 39)

Iran (Persia) and Russia (Meshech —root word for Moscovi or Moscow) are now in alliance. Both Iran and Russia have military forces in Syria, just north of Israel’s border.

Iran is the leading advocate of “wiping Israel off the map.” Iran recently test-fired two ballistic missiles, which had the phrase, “Israel must be wiped out” written on them in Hebrew and also claimed that it had 100,000 missiles ready to hit Israel.

Could the fact that all these things prophesied for the end time are happening right now be mere coincidence?

It just seems very unlikely. I don’t hardly think so! E

North Korea's New Level of Threat

North Korea demonstrated its growing military capabilities with the launch of four ballistic missiles, three of which fell into the Sea of Japan, in what Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe characterized as “a new level of threat.” Abe condemned the provocation as “utterly intolerable” and noted the North’s accelerating technological advancements.

CENTCOM: Iran Poses Greatest Threat

General Joseph Votel, the head of U.S. Central Command, called out Iran as one of the greatest threats to the Middle East. “It is my view that Iran poses the greatest long-term threat to stability for this part of the world,” Votel said. The commander’s remarks echo the sentiments of other high-ranking officials within the Trump administration. Iran and its proxy agents have been operating in regions of weak governance throughout the Middle East, occupying a power vacuum in the wake of the U.S. withdrawal from Iraq in 2011.

War can Boost Trump's Approval Ratings

According to a columnist for the Chicago Tribune, President Trump has the lowest approval rating of any U.S. president this early in his administration since 1953, and the only thing that could get Trump out of this slump is a war. “I’m not saying that’s what the president wants, but I fear it could be where we’re headed,” she wrote. “If President Trump doesn’t stay off Twitter, we could end up in a nuclear war.”

Gorbachev: Ban Nuclear War

Former Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev has issued a dire warning: “The world is preparing for war.” Gorbachev is urging President Donald Trump and Russian President Vladimir Putin to put a halt to a deadly path by spearheading a United Nations resolution that essentially bans nuclear war. According to Gorbachev, the initiative should come from “the presidents of two nations that hold over 90 percent of the world’s nuclear arsenals and therefore bear a special responsibility.”

Holy Roman Empire

Better Chance for European Integration

Belarus views its presidency of the Central European Initiative (CEI) as an opportunity to get better involved in the European integration processes. “It is for the first time that Belarus takes on the leading role in one of the oldest European integration organizations beyond our western border that unites the EU member states and its closest neighbors. We view this as a unique and timely opportunity to step up Belarus’ involvement in the European integration processes,” said Vladimir Makei, Belarusian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Charlemagne Prize for 2017

British historian Timothy Garton Ash has been named the recipient of Germany’s Charlemagne Prize for 2017. Since 1950, the Charlemagne Prize Board has been awarding the prize for special merit in supporting European unity. The foundation which chooses the winner praised Garton Ash for his “outstanding scientific and journalistic work” that “defies the populists and the simplifiers of our time and develops ideas of how we should behave in the globalized world.” Garton Ash is the 59th winner of the prize, named after Emperor Charlemagne of the early Middle Ages.

Minimum Income for Citizens

The European Commission wants all EU member states to introduce minimum wages and incomes for their workers and unemployed in an effort to combat growing social inequality and poverty. “There should be a minimum salary in each country of the European Union,” Jean-Claude Juncker said. Those seeking work should also have a guaranteed minimum level of income, he added.

Mark of the Beast

Ban for Forced Microchip Implants

Nevada may become the fifth state to pass a law banning the implanting of RFID microchips in humans without their consent. Senator Becky Harris introduced a bill in the Nevadan legislature that would make it a felony to forcibly implant the tracking devices in any human being. At least four other states – Wisconsin, Oklahoma, California and North Dakota – have passed laws against involuntary chipping of human beings.

Australia to be Cashless, Cards Obsolete

The president of technology for payments giant Mastercard said, “Eight out of 10 transactions here are contactless already...I definitely think Australia will be cashless before the U.S.” he said. Rob Reeg says the idea of a physical card would also become obsolete in five years. Mastercard is currently piloting what it calls “persistent authentication” in the form of the world’s first biometric wristband.

EU Steps Up Pace for Cashless Society

In January, the EU Commission issued the “Commission Initiative Roadmap” for 2018 regarding the step-up fight against the financing of terrorism. The policy looks to the “regulation on the controls of cash entering or leaving the Community and relevance of potential upper limits to cash payments.” The EU Commission is using the logic of banning cash by maintaining that it is difficult to quantify the legitimate or illegitimate use of cash.

Bill to Make Alaska Licenses Real ID-Compliant

Alaska Governor Bill Walker introduced legislation aimed at making Alaska driver’s licenses compliant with federal standards set by the Real ID Act. In 2008 the Alaska legislature passed a law blocking the use of public funds to comply with the law. The state has until June to comply and DHS has said it will not grant the state any further extensions.

Moving Embassy to Jerusalem

A U.S. Congressional delegation is to look into the option of relocating the American embassy to Jerusalem. President Donald Trump said he would “love” to see the embassy moved from its current location in Tel Aviv. He made the comments during Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu’s visit to Washington. Critics have said the move would damage the Israeli-Palestinian peace process.

We will Never Relinquish West Bank

Israel will never relinquish security control of the entirety of the West Bank, says Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu. The prime minister spoke these words in answer to a question about what he meant when he spoke of supporting a “Palestinian state”. Netanyahu said that Israel’s insistence on security control stemmed from the failures of international forces to protect the country from past acts of aggression by its neighbors.

Trump, Netanyahu Joint Press Conference

In a recent press conference, President Donald Trump said he would support the peace agreement that Israel and Palestinians like the best. “I’m looking at two-state and one-state. And I like the one that both parties like,” Trump said.

Israel will 'Never Again' Question U.S. Support

The new U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Nikki Haley has attempted to underscore the Trump administration’s position on ties with Israel. Haley referred to the new Washington government’s shift from the strained ties between the Israeli government and the previous White House administration of Barack Obama. “Never again will our allies question our support,” she said.

Disney Pushing ‘LGBT Agenda’

In reaction to the news that Disney has aired a cartoon showing two men kissing and is featuring a “gay character” in its upcoming Beauty and the Beast movie, Christian leader Franklin Graham said the Disney company is trying to “normalize” the homosexual lifestyle. “They’re trying to push the LGBT agenda into the hearts and minds of your children—watch out!” he said. “I hope Christians everywhere will say no to Disney.”

Virginia Town Cancels Ark Encounter

A special visit to The Ark Encounter and Creation Museum that Christiansburg Parks and Recreation offered to Virginia families was crossed off the itinerary after facing outrage from the Wisconsin-based Freedom from Religion Foundation (FFRF). The group called the field trip a violation of the constitution.

Pope Francis can be the Global Voice

According to a columnist at The Week, a populist backlash is brewing against the elites of society. The global elite have had countless failures, and still seem unable to question itself and its failed paradigms. What we need is a world leader who can articulate a vision of what’s true, good, and beautiful, and can serve as an alternative. And that man is Pope Francis.

Christian University to Send Students to Mosque

Students enrolled in a world religions course at Texas Christian University must attend a mosque service as part of the class. “Every student is expected to attend this service,” states the syllabus. The course is taught by an Associate Professor of Islamic and Religious Studies who earned his bachelor’s degree in Islamic Studies and master’s degree in Islamic law at University of Medina in Saudi Arabia. An option for extra credit is, “Being Muslim for a Day.”

Enlargement of UN Security Council

Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan has called for expansion of the UN Security Council to 20 rotating member states and forgoing the division into permanent and non-permanent members. Erdogan says that the reform is necessary to change the fate of the International Community. Currently the Council consists of five permanent, veto-wielding members and 10 non-permanent, rotating members.

Russia Vetoes Chemical Arms Penalties

Russia and China blocked a United Nations Security Council resolution backed by the Trump administration that would have punished the Syrian government for using chemical weapons. The Russian veto was the first public clash at the Security Council between the Kremlin and the Trump administration. It was the Kremlin’s seventh Security Council veto in defense of Mr. Assad in the Syria war, now nearly six years old.

NATO to U.S.: Yes, Sir, Mr. Trump

Vice President Mike Pence took the Trump message to NATO headquarters in Brussels. NATO’s response can be boiled down to a single sentence: Yes sir, Mr. Trump. “I fully support what has been underlined by President Trump and by Vice President Pence today, the importance of burden sharing,” said NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg.

UN Chief Presses U.S. to Keep Up Support

Secretary General António Guterres has urged the U.S. not to scale back its support for the United Nations, saying that any move to defund or disengage from the world body would pave the way for other nations to fill in the void. The U.S. contributes about $8 billion a year to the UN. The comments followed indications by Mr. Trump that he was rethinking the U.S.’ commitment to the global body.
